

WEBERBOULEVART

REBIRTH OF AN GLORY STREET

The Main Idea:
We would like to create an urban space in order to revitalize the Inner and Outer Weber-Street and its potential for the historical city center.

Our Concept:
It is all goes around having a new welcoming gate between the city center and the western part of Zittau.

This only can be reached by doing some analysis and studying the surroundings.

Analysis:
Complicated transport situation and empty buildings around Inner and Outer Weber-Street became the starting point for the project. The once vibrant street has lost its value overtime and become a kind of empty place.
Anlaysis shows that the project area has a lot of artistic potential and is a connecting point to the city center. Inner Weber-Street has potential to become an OPEN AIR GALLERY for presenting local contexts. Cultural event might take place here and also in the re-open backyards.

The car flow coming from the western part can be intercepted by the nearby, large and free public car parking from which it is very easy to get to city center as it is about 500m away.

The pedestrian alleyways can become a consistent boulevard due to the improvement of quality of public space.
